Media, Education, and America's Counter-culture Revolution Robert L. Hilliard 2001 Media, Education and America's Counter-Culture Revolution is an adaptation and amalgamation of some of the author's speeches, papers, and essays during his service in several federal government communication and education posts during the 1960s and 1970s. Dealing with the use and misuse of media and their impact--or lack of it--on our country's political, cultural, and educational development, this book shows how far we fell short of what we might have done with the media, and suggests what we might still do.

Home Care Nursing Delegation Skills Ruth I. Hansten 1999 An essential reference for nursing students in developing and implementing the competencies necessary in caring for critically ill patients! Synergy for Clinical Excellence: The AACN Synergy Model for Patient Care enhances the understanding of The Synergy Model in practice. Based on a decade of work by the American Association of Critical-Care Nurses, the text encompasses the history and development of the nurse and patient characteristic inherent in The Synergy Model, and then thoroughly addresses each characteristic individually and applies the model in practice. Includes sample test questions relevant to the model that will assist nursing students in preparing for certification through AACN, and provide further examples of the integration of the Synergy Model in practice.

Evaluation in Education Richard M. Wolf 1990 Educational evaluation has changed considerably since Wolf's first edition. The value of his ideas has not. This third edition extends and refines the first. Wolf identifies basic questions addressed in studies and information needed to answer those questions. Throughout, he advocates an eclectic approach--combining qualitative and quantitative techniques. Wolf adds new material including a chapter on the contemporary scene. Text or handbook, this comprehensive volume covers the history of evaluation, planning and conducting studies, analysis of results, report preparation, and decision making.
